

THE HOLY WHISKERS OF ZORG

by

Helen Macfarlane

Princess Mavis enters

Earth's atmosphere in search of

The Holy Whiskers of Zorg

To her absolute horror her green turbosphere melts and she is forced to make a

CRASH LANDING!!!

Her malheur necessitates a short stay in hospital where she remains hapless and helpless with out her

TRANSMITTER WHISKERS

The wretched Mavis finds repose in a place of REHABILITATION

Special Choos.

UNASHAMEDLY

she uses her feline charms
to find out the whereabouts of the trashed space-sieve

ALAS!!!

The space sieve has been rendered useless and relegated to standard vegetable drainage.

Somehow her

UNASHAMEDNESS

has also left her with tender memories...

AND A LOVE KITTEN

Her psychotherapists persuades her to follow her heart and give up her vain attempts to return to ...

PLANET ZORG

Her last pennies are thus wasted as she finds her beloved in bed...

WITH ANOTHER....

Another vain attempt to leave planet Earth and its dreadful memories

Not to be thwarted Mavis rummages around to find old tissue boxes.

EVERYBODY on planet Zorg knows that they make extremely effective radio transmitters.

Mavis' rummaging pays off:

PLANET ZORG

PLANET ZORG

COME IN PLEASE!

The sleepless nights of hoping for and trying to find some small sign of life have finally paid off.

Prince Felicius eagerly receives the long-awaited images of sweetheart Mavis on the MICRO-WHISKER-TELE-TRANSMITTER.

He sends a space shuttle to planet Earth. Mavis' departure is observed by guilt-ridden but relieved cat's eyes.

Together, Princess Mavis and Prince Felicius fly off to unexplored planets of the MILKY WAY in further search of.....

THE HOLY WHISKERS OF ZORG

The End

